

Hi. The draft of the new landmark preservation design review guidelines is now posted in its entirety with the release today of the final draft chapter, which offers guidance on signs on historic landmarks and on properties and structures in historic districts. The chapter is available here (PDF).

The full draft guidelines, posted chapter by chapter, are available on the project's webpage.

Because the adoption of the new design guidelines by the Landmark Preservation Commission falls under its “rule-making” authority, the city is required to notify interested individuals about the commission’s intention to do just that.

The official public notice has been posted on the project’s webpage and is available here (PDF). If you would like to receive a hard copy of the notice or of the full draft of the new guidelines, email your request and your mailing address to landmark@denvergov.org.

The commission will hear testimony from the community at the public hearing to be held during its regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday, July 1, at 1 p.m. in Room 4.F.6 of the Webb Municipal Building, 201 W. Colfax Ave.

Office hours

Those unable to attend the public hearing can submit their comments to preservation planners during office hours sessions being held this week (see below for times and locations) or by emailing landmark@denvergov.org.
